

School Manners Seminars

Learning proper manners will last your child/student a lifetime. Manners are the foundation to basic civility today and when practiced and valued, can reduce the effects of peer pressure and bullying, especially in our school systems. Our mission is to offer fun and educational seminars to support young children and young adults in gaining knowledge, skill and confidence. All classes are taught by Betty Rabe, M. Ed., a trained and certified Emily Post Institute instructor, and focus on the fundamental principles of respect, consideration and honesty.
